Westerly Gunners' Good Showing

Excellent Marksmanship Shown in Big Gun Practice Although Scores are Not Yet Decided—Miss Fendleton Acting Head of Wellesley College—Injunction Stopping Railroad Work Dissolved—White Rock Team May Finish Season,

The Rhode Island Coast Artillery corps, now on annual tour of duty, have been at practice with the big guns, and the previous training showed good results. At the six-inch guns at Battery Mitchell the first one hundred shots at moving targets were fired by the fifth company, Westerly, with these officers in charge: Captain B. A. Sacco, battery commander, with Captain Hyde, U. S. A., as supervisor of work; Lieut. Robert G. Thacker, detailed at primary station, with Major Greene as supervisor; Lieut. Robert M. Freestone, as emplacement officer, with Lieut. Culbert, U. S. A., supervising. Private Northrup was gun pointer.

The shooting was excellent, but is not yet decided which side was the best. Colonel Tilden, Lieut. Colonel Ledward acted as battle officer. Major Johnson was fire command officer, under the supervision of Major Kephart, U. S. A.

Miss Marie Zangendi, an assistant in the Westerly public library, now on vacation, was treated to a surprise trip to Europe. She was given six weeks leave of absence, which she supposed was to be spent in New York state with her mother among relatives. After a few days in New York city the trip to Europe was suggested, ostensibly a health trip for Mrs. Zangendi, which was quietly planned before departing from Westerly, by passage for Mrs. Zangendi and Miss Marie having been engaged on a ship to Philadelphia for London.

Miss Zangendi writes to an associate in the library telling of the surprise trip. The letter was written aboard the steamship and mailed from Southampton. She enjoyed the voyage and was anxious to land and enjoy some of the foreign scenes.

It is not financial embarrassment, but rather internal dissension in the White Rock team that has threatened the disbandment of the team and withdrawal from the Rhode Island and Connecticut leagues. While it had been practically decided to get out of the game, owing to the evenly divided facilities, matters have been arbitrated, and at present the prospects are favorable that the White Rock team will finish the season, but under a change in management and some changes in the makeup of the team. Catcher Greenwood has been selected as manager, and arrangements have been made to play the scheduled game with Wakefield next Saturday, and it is believed the other games will be played with a strengthened team.

Dr. John M. O'Connell, president of the league, says that he had received no notification of the withdrawal of the White Rock team, although he had been indirectly informed that such action was to have been taken, and he expected to receive the weekly roster of players from White Rock, as usual.

There was report that Premier, Shohan and Brennan of the White Rocks had been offered positions with the Stonington team.

Miss Caroline Hazard of Peace Dale, president of Wellesley college for 11 years, has failing health, and the trustees have accepted the resignation with regret. At the same meeting at which Miss Hazard's resignation was accepted, the trustees voted to empower Miss Ellen F. Fendleton of Westerly, dean of the college, to act as president until Miss Hazard's successor can be chosen.

Many of the trustees are now in Europe, and as it requires a majority of the board to choose a president, no action towards the election of a successor can be taken for several months, when a committee of the trustees will be appointed to make a recommendation to the board. In 1899 at the beginning of Miss Hazard's administration the assets of the college were $217,725, and the present endowment is more than a million.

Judge Brown of the superior court has dissolved the preliminary injunction restraining Michael Cavanaugh from proceeding with the rebuilding of the Pawcatuck street railroad from Pleasant View junction to Watch Hill, and the work will probably move forward without serious opposition. The road is now practically completed, and the rebuilding of the Watch Hill residents objected to further work on the road until the close of the summer season, or until September 20.

At the monthly meeting of the Westerly town council three weeks ago, J. Frank Champlin, L. Dickinson, Mrs. Burnet and Judge John W. Sweeney, representing Watch Hill parties, made verbal protest against the work, and demanded that it be stopped forthwith, as it was causing irretrievable damage to Watch Hill interests. The council the next day made personal inspection of the work and held a special meeting the following evening, and further hearing in the matter. The council ordered the work to proceed as far as Pleasant View junction, but to not go beyond without special permission of the council.

Subsequently there was a resolution of protest adopted by the Westerly fire district, and a signed protest from many merchants of Westerly, asking that the work be deferred until the end of the season. The town council held a special meeting last Saturday night, considering these protests. It developed that this meeting that a preliminary injunction had been served on the contractor, restraining him from proceeding with the rebuilding of the road.

The council then wisely took no action, as the subject matter had been taken into court. The hearing was set down for Monday in the superior court at Providence and continued to Wednesday, when Judge Brown dissolved the injunction, certain restrictions as to keeping the road clear being agreed upon by the legal representatives of the complainant, Judge John W. Sweeney and Albert B. Crafts, and by the representatives of the contractor and the trolley company, Judge Edward M. Burke and Attorney Bliss of Providence.

The work will be carried on with the least possible inconvenience to the public and be completed as rapidly as possible. The trolley company's permission is now granted by the Westerly town council.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Broad Street Christian church in annual session selected these officers: Orrin Sanford, president; George Ledward, vice president; Miss Carrie, Mrs. A. V. West, treasurer; George W. Norman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John G. Dutton, junior superintendent; Miss Jessie Love, assistant. The regular standing committee consists of Messrs. W. W. Kelgwin, music and readings, and Rev. John G. Dutton, gave description of a trip to the Isle of Man.

Band concert in Wilcox park on Thursday evening.

The strikers who were in the employ of Contractor Dolote have reported, and are returning to work Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Clark of Elizabeth, Tenn., are the guests of Mr. Clark's mother, Mrs. Harriet J. Kouneth, in Spring street.

The Pawcatuck Women's Christian Temperance union has presented Mrs. Ruth K. Nash, who has been president five years, with a life certificate of membership in the organization for the state of Connecticut.

Major Huggins of Norwich and the advance detail of coast artillery companies arrived in Westerly Wednesday morning, en route to Port Mansfield. The companies will arrive by trolley cars Thursday, and transfer for Watch Hill at Pleasant View junction, and march from Watch Hill to the government reservation.

REACHED 70 ON SAME DAY.
Mr. and Mrs. William E. Camp of New Haven Celebrate Together at Old Home.

William E. Camp and his wife, Eliza Hale Camp, of New Haven, Conn., observed their 70th birthday in their native town, Durham, Conn., as the invited guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Corey. Mr. and Mrs. Camp were born on the same day, July 16, 1840, attended the same school, worked in the same quarry school, and later studied some of the higher branches in the Durham academy. Mr. Camp, while in the employ of Messrs. Hayden and Loveland, in Middletown, enlisted for service in the civil war, in the Twenty-first regiment, Conn. volunteers, was detailed for clerical duty in the quartermaster's office at Newport News, Va., and later assigned to the same position at the headquarters of the honorable discharge from the service at Richmond, Va.

Mr. Camp was employed as invoice clerk in the office of the Mallory-Wheeler company in New Haven for 24 years, and later was in the office of Robert T. Merwin, rent estate, for four years. Mr. Camp and Miss Hale were married November 29, 1866, in Durham by the Rev. A. C. Fennell, and have lived in New Haven since that time. Mr. Camp is now able to do light indoor work in the New Haven High school and Boardman, preferring it to mental labor. Mr. and Mrs. Camp united with the St. John Street Methodist church soon after their marriage, and are at present members of the Epworth Methodist church on Orange street, New Haven. Mr. Camp was superintendent of the St. John Street and Epworth Sunday schools for 24 years, 23 of which were continuous. Mrs. Camp was teacher in both the above schools for many years.

A Clay Model of Lincoln.
The model in clay of Abraham Lincoln which Gutzon Borglum is making for Newark, N. J., will be completed soon. Mr. Lincoln is represented seated at the end of a plain bench, the left hand on his right knee, the right hand resting on the bench. Lincoln once said of himself in Civil war days that he realized what Christ must have felt in the Garden of Gethsemane. It is on this that Mr. Gutzon has built the statue which tells the tragedy of Mr. Lincoln's loneliness, the agonizing sorrow of his soul. He seems to be praying that his cup may pass. The statue, which is of a bronze, will be placed in front of the Newark courthouse in September.

MYSTIC

Peter Bruggemann's Sudden Death Brings Sorrow to Friends—Was Prominent in Affairs of the Town—Camping Party—Local Interests.

Mystic people were shocked when they learned that Peter Bruggemann had dropped dead at Noank Tuesday night. Mr. Bruggemann, who has not been away from the past two years, had taken a leave of absence from his duties as superintendent of the Roselle velvet mill and had gone to his cottage with Mrs. Bruggemann at Nauyasug. He was feeling much better the day he died, by his death was prematurely hurried by his rowing from Mason Island to Noank, as he wanted to see the mill and was late.

Mr. Bruggemann will be missed, as he was closely connected with town affairs, at one time representing the town of Stonington at Hartford, and being at his death one of the members of the school committee. He was a member of the St. Patrick church. He was born in Germany and has lived in Mystic about eight years, during which time he was superintendent of the Roselle velvet mill. He leaves a widow, but no other near relatives in this country.

Personals.
Lemuel J. Coburn and son, Lemuel, Jr., are spending a few days in town. Mrs. Mary Brewster of Norwich was the guest of Mrs. Isabella MacKenzie on Wednesday.

Mrs. William Douglas has returned from a visit in South Coventry. William Holiday is spending a few days in New York.

Progress at West Side School.
Contractor Benvenuti of New London, who is building the new sewer for the West Side schoolhouse, was in town Wednesday and said that the sewer is nearly completed. The plasterers have nearly finished the work, and it is rapidly nearing completion. The windows have arrived for the school and work is being pushed rapidly so that the new schoolhouse will be complete by the first of September.

Camping at Nauyasug.
Misses Florence, Iva and Leah Johnson, Agnes Chapman, Emma Wells, with Mrs. Hattie Peckham as chaperon, all of Old Mystic, are camping out this week in the Gaskell cottage at Nauyasug.

Big Four Against Douglas Giants.
This afternoon at the Industrial park the Big Four team will play the Douglas Giants. The game will be the battery for the Big Four. The game will commence at 3 o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth J. Wilson is visiting with friends in Sandy Beach, L. I. C. T. Walcott left on Wednesday for Southampton for a visit.

Mrs. S. S. Brewster is entertaining her grandson, William Brewster, of New York.

Mrs. Clara Davis of Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. Wilhelmina Newland of Chesapeake City, Md., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kelgwin.

T. E. Kenney is spending a few days in New York.

Violin Recital a Decided Success.
The violin recital given by the pupils of G. Victor Grinnell Tuesday evening in the Methodist church was a decided success. The following programme was rendered: Valse des Concert, Joyous Spring, Emil Weyer, Harold Stevens, William Russell, Charles Ryon, Charles Ryon, William Schreiber, Carl Mitchell, Merton Clark, Rouse Wilcox, Albert Marston and Harold Eaton; solo, Mestral, Frank Ryon, Charles Ryon; Suite Romanticque, pupils and orchestra; tenor solo, Recitative, and God Created Man, W. W. Kelgwin; solo, Miss Mildred Horn; string quartette, Asks Tod, Grinnell, Weyer, Eaton, Deibel, Russell, Ryon, and orchestra; orchestra; March Finale, pupils and orchestra; and orchestra was assisted by Roger Daboll, cellist; Elmer Newbury, clarinet; E. E. Bucklin, cornet; and Miss Lottie Brinkman and Helen Wilcox at the piano.

Sunday School Members Picnic.
The members of the Union Baptist Sunday school enjoyed their annual picnic at the Casino yesterday. The special cars had been chartered to carry the pupils and parents and left the waiting room at 9 o'clock. The day was spent in playing games and dinner was served down stairs in the pavilion, and ice cream was furnished to all members of the school. The party returned at 5 o'clock, all pleased with their outing.

L. J. Coburn of Boston is in town for a few days.

Mrs. G. H. Culver of Jersey City is the guest of relatives here.

TURTLE SAVES A LIFE.
Suffield Farmer, Sinking in Quicksand, Makes It Stepping Stone to Safety.

The solid back of a big, vicious snapping turtle, proved the stepping stone to safety for a farmer at Suffield Tuesday, who, but for the nearness of the animal, would have lost his life in quicksand. While dredging an ice pond he stepped off the solid ground and suddenly found himself sinking. While he felt the shifty mass steadily sucking him down his foot touched something solid—a rock, he thought. He climbed on top of it and over the turtle's back reached and grasped a nearby log. Being the submerged rock would make a good doorstep and fitting souvenir of his remarkable escape from death he returned with dredging iron and hauled up a militant snapping turtle. A hotel man bought the turtle.

GIRL BEHEADS RATTLER.

Attacks Snake With Shovel, Man Is Afraid to Use.

While picking berries on the mountain side in East Canaan, Monday, Misses May and Julia Foley heard a rattle in the bushes and looking down saw a rattlesnake coiled and ready to strike.

Stepping back out of danger, one of the girls watched the snake, while the other ran to the furnace for help. She returned with a man armed with a shovel, but when he saw the snake he became frightened. Miss Julia Foley then seized the shovel and with well directed blows severed the head of the snake. The girls carried the rattler in to the village. It measured four feet seven inches and had four rattles.

Motor Farming in Tasmania.
Steam and other power is gradually taking the place of the horse even in Hobart. It is not to be wondered at that in the matter of road traffic the horse is being very largely replaced by the motor, but it is surprising that the animal should be losing its position on the farm. However, such is the case.—Tasmanian Mail, Hobart.
